PUBLIC LEADER.

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 2, 1882.

VOL. XXXIV.

PERSONAL.

J. A. Bailey, the plumber, is quite sick at his residence, on Dean avenue.

Miss Mary Haines arrived from Staunton, Va., last night, at which place she has been attending the Augusta Female Seminary, for the past nine months.

Professor Mugan, of the Peabody School, stated yesterday that out of the three hundred and sixty pupils who have attended that school during the year the only one not marked tardy is Johnnie Wells, son of Mr. Sam Wells, the original "newsboy" of Memphis. Quite a compliment and distinction.

At the Theater To-night.

A very attractive programme has been arranged for the entertainment at Leubrie's Theater to-night, including elocutionary and dramatic exercises. There will be a number of choice recitations interspersed with music.

Miss Alice Fuchs, a young lady of rare talent, will sing for the last time before she leaves for Europe. This alone is worth the price of admission.

Other local favorites will also appear.
 There will no doubt be a full and an appreciative house. Major Barney Hughes will confer the prizes—three first prizes, three second prizes and perhaps others special and complimentary. All who are to take part are expected to be on hand on time. Doors will open at half past seven, and the overture, by Professors Levy and Piano, will begin at eight o'clock.

Professor Frank M. Smith, of Knoxville, will introduce the young people and otherwise act as manager, and Misses Olivia Hill, Virginia Frazier, Jennie Montgomery and Mamie Looney, assisted by four gentlemen, will preside as judges. Tickets of admission 50c.

Business men will find it to their interest to have their job printing done at the PUBLIC LEADER job printing office, 13 Madison street.

SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Thirty Persons Injured—A Bride and Groom among the Number.

KEOKUK, IOWA, June 1.—A passenger train on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad struck a broken rail near Fredericksville, Ill., to-day, overturning three coaches and causing a general wreck. Over thirty passengers were injured, but no lives were lost. L. E. Marsheek and bride, of Keokuk, who started on their bridal tour this morning, were on the train, and Mr. Marsheek sustained severe injuries about the head and shoulder, while Mrs. Marsheek's face was badly cut up. They returned to Keokuk to-night.

imposts. When he returned to his native village, he bought and sold, swapped and bartered, and turned over a great deal of money, in the periods which would have been spent in idleness and dissipation were he in an European army. Wherever there is a free school in Egypt it is well attended; the poor people there understand the value of knowledge and accept it from teachers belonging to Catholic and Protestant missions, although attached to their own Coptic Christianity. Reading and writing are much more general than Europeans imagine. M. de Lesseps could almost now form a staff of Egyptian clerks for the administration of his canal. The negroes who were imported to labor as slaves on the domains of the ex Khedive have many excellent and useful qualities. M. de Lesseps has a very kindly feeling toward the dark races of the world, among whom he has lived a great deal. He is convinced that Egypt will be in the future, as she has been in the past, a civilizing State in Africa.

It is thought that the change in the time of holding the State election in California from September to November will be likely to affect seriously the size of the vote. Little rain falls in September, the roads are in good condition, and consequently the farmers came out in force to vote. But November is one of the most rainy months of the year, and it is feared that this will reduce materially the number of voters. The election in the State this year is important. The offices to be filled are those of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Comptroller, Treasurer, Surveyor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Superintendent of Instruction, two Supreme Judges, four members of the Board of Equalization, three members of the Railroad Commission, a full Senate and Assembly. All the State officers will be elected for a term of four years.

In the Ark.

New York Press.

"Draw near this ear, I pray thee," said Noah, as he sat smoking his good clay pipe by the fire, after having fed the animals their evening meal and shaken up their bedding. "What would my lord?" replied Mrs. N., drawing near her ear as commanded.

Noah smoked in silence for the space of a minute or two, and then opened his mouth and spoke as follows: "I perceive by the indications, mother, that the storm which was central over the Euphrates will move westerly to the Nile valley on the morrow, with areas of low barometer and northeasterly winds, and stormy weather on the Arabian coast. I have been moved, therefore, to jetison a part of our cargo, fearing that our supplies will give out ere the floods shall subside. What animal thickest thou can best be spared, love?" And Mrs. N. looked out of the window, listened a moment to the pattering drops on the roof, and replied sweetly: "The rain, dear." And at the sound of her voice Noah wept like a child, and the animals wailed in unison, and there was misery unpareable where all had been so calm and tranquil.

Cotton Spindles in the South.

The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer makes the gratifying report that in the seven States of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and the Carolinas, there has been an increase of three hundred and sixty-one thousand in the number of cotton spindles during the past year. This addition to the manufacturing industries of the South represents, it is estimated, a capital of nearly ten million dollars, which is certainly a most encouraging condition of affairs. There is no reason why the South should not be able to manufacture cotton goods as cheaply as New England. It has greater advantages in the way of climate and labor, and it also saves the heavy cost of transportation on the raw article. If the South is wise there can be little doubt that the great cotton factories of the country will in less than a quarter of a century be on the other side of Mason and Dixon's line.

Improved Outlook for the Crops.

New York Herald, 31.

Although the season has for some time been colder than usual, the great grain crops have passed the critical period of the spring without grave damage from the weather. Yesterday's reports indicated a rising temperature in the West and Northwest, and a comparison of the present spring season with that of 1881 is on the whole decidedly in favor of the former.
 It is also just now worthy of notice that it is exceedingly improbable that June can develop any cold conditions that will sensibly affect the present agricultural outlook.

In June, 1877, the temperatures ranged considerably below the mean for the month in several of the grain growing regions, being 2.4 below the mean in the upper Mississippi valley, 3.1 below in Minnesota, and 4.5 below in the upper Missouri valley. These were notable deficiencies of temperature for the first summer months, but they caused no serious deficiencies in the crops of that year.
 Even should the first month of the coming summer prove cooler than that of 1877 the danger to the northwestern crops will not be a matter of concern. Up to the 50th parallel, with two and a half months of growing weather (a mean temperature from 63 degrees in June to 67 degrees in August), the corn crop can hardly fail to be abundant, and there is every reason to expect that these thermal values will be more than realized in the Northwest generally.

 As corn was the chief crop menaced by the cold weather, and no disaster has yet overtaken it, the Western farmers may breathe more freely with the close of May, the critical month for agriculture north of the 40th parallel.

Removal of the Nashville Postoffice.

World, 1.

At 6 o'clock this morning the postoffice people will commence to remove the contents of their old office into the room fitted up for that purpose in the new customhouse. All the mail will be received and delivered from the new office to-day.

The first letter mailed in the new office last night was directed to "Master John H. Polk, jr., care Colonel H. M. Polk, Bolivar, Tennessee."

The first paper mailed in the new office was a copy of the daily World, directed to a new subscriber, Mr. S.
 A. Cross, Scarborough, Tenn.

The entrance to the new office is on Broad street. The general delivery, stamp clerk, money order and register departments are on the right. The lock boxes and carriers' room are on the left, and the mail department in the center.

The carriers will make their first rounds this morning from the old postoffice and carry all the mail collected to the Custom House.

Mr. John W. Brown, the general delivery clerk, resigned his position last evening to accept a position in the Postoffice Department at Washington. Dr. W. P. Jones, the postmaster, accepted his resignation, and appointed Mr. R. J. Murray to succeed him. Mr. Brown has been a long time in the postoffice, and will be missed by many admiring friends when he leaves for the Capital. Mr.
 Murray has heretofore held the position of assistant delivery clerk and carriers' distributor. His many friends will be glad to know of his promotion.

Robert F. Bower, whose death at Keokuk, Iowa, is announced, was one of the most distinguished Masons in the world, being at the time of his death the General Grand High Priest of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States and a member of the Supreme Council of the Thirty-third Degree, which is limited to thirty-three members when full. Mr. Bower for many years had been engaged in making a collection of the various publications relating to Freemasonry, and being a man of great wealth, was enabled to indulge his tastes to such an extent that his library embraced many thousand Masonic books and manuscripts, numbers of which were obtained by his agents in Europe at great cost owing to their rarity. There are several larger collections of Masonic books than perhaps none more valuable—that of Mr. Bower being scarcely inferior to that in the British Museum.
